THE NICK ROSS ORCHESTRA SOUNDS OF THE GLENN MILLER ERA

a concert recreating the classic Big Band sound of the 1940s

The Nick Ross Orchestra is to bring the Big Band Sound of the 1940s back to the West End in a spectacular concert celebrating the Glenn Miller era.

With a full line-up of saxophones, trumpets, trombones, a rhythm section and top singers, The Nick Ross Orchestra will faithfully recreate the wonderful sounds of such Big Bands as those led by Glenn Miller, Count Basie, Harry James and Tommy Dorsey.

Through such numbers as "Moonlight Serenade", "In the Mood", "A String of Pearls", "Begin the Beguine" and "A Nightingale Sang in Berkeley Square" memories of London in the Blitz will no doubt be brought flooding back to life. The music will span almost all the emotions of those difficult times: comradeship, doubt, fear, loss and, most significantly, the hope in love. There have been times in history when composers and musicians seemed to be born to the occasion - none more so than the inimitable Glenn Miller who not only felt instinctively for the mood of the time but almost single-handedly created the spirit with which the public faced it.

The Nick Ross Orchestra uses arrangements exactly as recorded in the Great Swing Era of the 40's, coupled with outstanding instrumental and vocal performances. This West End concert celebrating the inimitable Glenn Miller promises to be an unmissable evening of music and song.
